

Venue pack: Museum of Alchemists

Address:

Jánský vršek 8, 118 00 Malá Strana

Website:

<http://www.muzeumalchymistu.cz>

Summary:

The Museum of Alchemists lies below the castle, up the hill from Malostranská beseda and very near Golden Key. It is part of a museum which tells the story of Edward Kelley a sixteenth century English alchemist who lived in the building. The theatre has basic lights and sound with black masking and seating on benches around the side with stools

There is a bar immediately beside the performance space and a courtyard.
It is suitable for small-scale music, theatre, poetry, storytelling, comedy, etc.

'Bonnie Fechtors', Morna Burdon, 2019

Seating

30 on benches around side and Stools

Stage Dimensions

Width 3.10, Depth 2.10, Height +0.40. Please note that the stage has a curve on the DR edge. The stage has a trap door in the centre for storage. This does not lead off stage.

Stage Floor

Wooden boarding (so some foot noise)

Sight lines

Good

Access

From courtyard into auditorium, or from courtyard via dressing room. 0.40 step up to the stage from all entrances.

Audience Entrance

From Courtyard into auditorium, the entrance is flat though across uneven paving stones

Dressing Room

Immediately behind stage with separate toilet. Dressing room has access to rear of stage and also to courtyard and via that to main auditorium entrance.

Toilets

Shared with audience (in courtyard)!

Walls

Stage: Black drapes. Auditorium painted night blue, currently with stars painted on

Sound

Alchemy is used for small music performances and has a Sampson PA Mixer 4 mic channel input plus 2 stereo line inpts. Stereo output
Speakers Sampson 300w on stands
2 vox mics on stands
Tie lines from control position to stage.

Piano

There is a piano next to the stage. This cannot be moved.

Lighting

A mixture of 5 x LED pars (colour changing) and halogen PCs including some back light.
Control Eurolite DMX

Projection

Alchemy has no projection equipment and does not have anyway of hanging a projector. In the past people have used projectors placed on tables however there is limited throw (so the image is quite small) and danger of blocking audience's view

Storage

Limited storage in dressing room and some behind blacks for flat items.

Furniture

A small selection of chairs and tables are available.

Venue Photos

More photos available at:

<https://drive.google.com/open?id=0B4LaZ1IM6qtuX3FseThrZHFwQTQ>

Stage

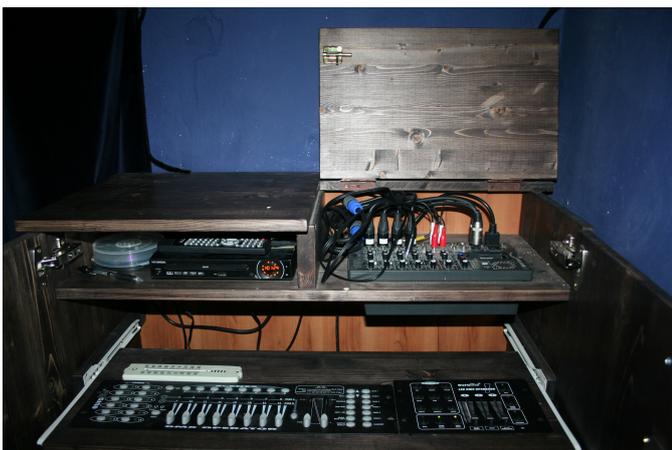

Piano

Courtyard ('The Little Fisherman', Langsjo Theater, 2018)

'Twonkey's Night Train to Lichtenstein', Mr Twonkey, 2018

Control Position

LED Lights

Venue floor plan:

